On motion the citizens were requested to decorate their houses and stores on the 221.
Sundry arrangements for the reception and entertaioment of the visiting military were perfeeted and it was ordered that only uniformed visitors and the reception committee be admitted to the barquet hall.

The various sub committees are vigorously at work and should the weather prove favorable the parade will be one of the finest and mest enthusiastic ever gotten up in this city.

It is hoped that the citizens generally will earnestly second the efforts of the firemen to have a grand demonstration.

[SPECIAL TO THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19. The early hour at which the Secate now meets-11 o'clock-doesu't seem to work well. There were but three members, Messrs, Garland, Kirkwood and Spencer, and the pages present when the opening prayer was delivered. Mr. Spencer moved that the reading of the journal be dispensed with, but the President decided that as no quorum was present no business could be transacted.

Mr. Spencer then moved to take up a private The President repeated that as it was appar ent there was not the semblance of a quorum in the chamber he could not entertain the motion, but that if the few members present desired to be entertained the clerk could read a communication from the Secretary of the Interior containing a plan for carrying out the pro visions of the arrears of pensions bill, which the clerk proceeded to do.

It was half past 11 before a quorum was present, when the motion to dispense with the reading of the journal was adopted, and regular proceedings were commenced.

Mr. Garland says he will watch for and seize any opportunity that may present itself for him to call up the Texas Pacific Railroad bill, but that he cannot antagonize the appropriation bills, and that consequently he is by no means as sanguine of getting up that bill this session in Washington to be closed and no doubt there as he was some time since.

Gen. Beale succeeded this morning in calling up and having passed the bill to pay the Female Baptist College of Richmond for the rent of their building. Mess:s. Conger and Brewer, who had previously opposed the passage of the bill, withdraw their objection when informed that the debt was incurred after the closs of the war. Gen. Beale after the passage of the bill made his first call upon the President and availed himself of the opportunity to say a word or two that would tend to prevent any possible but not probable veto.

The friends of the tobacco tax reduction are n exuberant spirits this morning and anticipate no trouble to pushing their bill through the House, is which it has already been reported. The Senate Committee on Railroads held another meeting to consider Senator Jones' bill to allow railroad companies to conduct public telegraphie business.

In the House this morning a bill was intro-and the consideration of the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill was resumed. The amendment repealing the test oath for jurors in U. S. courts was adopted by a vote of 127 to 85. Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, being among those who spoke and voted in favor of it. In his speech he said that the Postmaster General, Federal judges, U. S. district attorneys and marshals, Senators and Representatives were executing the duties of the irrespective officer without taking the test oath, but that one man could serve as a juror in a U. S. court without taking it, and that he was utterly opposed to any such unjust and ridiculous discrimination.

An amendment to repeal the Federal election aws was then proposed and is being debated. Mr. Hale opposes it and says his party will support him even to the extent of clogging legislation. He compares the edicts of democratic caucuses to those of the committee of safety during the French revolution, but says the people will not sabmit to them.

The Senate to day took up the postoffice appropriation bill. During a debate on the section increasing the pay of letter carriers, Mr. Ferry moved that the Postmaster General be requested to furnish certain required information. Mr. Conkling opposed it, but solely upon the ground of its phraseology, saying that the word "requested" should be substituted by the word "directed." Mr. Ferry said he would necept the suggestion as he was probably a little more modest than the gentleman from New York. Mr. Cookling replied that he should always be immedest enough to maintain the rights of the Sepate, if the required information was desired of the President or the Supreme Court, coordinate branches of the Government with Congrees, the word requested would be proper, but the head of a department should be directed to do what Congress required.

le was decided that an amendment providing for a subsidy to mail lines runnieg from New York and New Orleans to Brazil was germaio. Mr. Edmunds then opposed it upon other grounds, and was antagonized by Mr. Conkling.

The Potter Committee held another meeting to day and resumed the examination of Gen!. Barlow, who was sent to Florida by the radicals. His evidence like that he gave yesterday, was to the effect that the vote of Florida was for sale, and that the democrats did not buy it. Lieut, Arthur Fletcher, U. S. N., now under temporary susponsion for intoxication, and for some time past, with his wife and two children, boarding with Mrs. Bailey, a fashiocable boardlog house keeper, in Baltimore, night before last cloped with the daughter of his landlady, a handsome girl 18 years old, and, though thing in the toware line, call on Stausbury & tracked to New York, all traces of the elop-Bro., corner King and Columbus sts. dec 21 ors were there lost. Mrs. Fletcher, with her children, returned to the house of her father, Dr. Wadsworth, a leading dentist of this city. last night, and is completely prostrated by her grief and disgrace. The affair has created a considerable sensation in the circles of society in which the parties affected moved.

A dispatch from Jackson, Mich., says that exteen tramps took possession of the cogine house of the Fort Wayne, Jackson and Saginaw Railroad at that place yesterday, and drove out the employees, appounding their intention to have work or die. The police succeeded in capturing the whole gang. After their arrest they claimed that their only intention was to have some fun with the railroad men.

NERVE INQUIETUDE AND ITS REMEDY. Restlets nerves, at least those that are constantly so, are weak ones as well. The true way to tranquilize them thoroughly is to strengthen them. It may be, may, it very often is necessary to have recourse to a sedative or even an opiate, in dangerous cases of nervous inquietude, but the continued use of such unnatural palliatives, is greatly to be deprecated. Though not, tives, is greatly to be deprecated. Though not, in a restricted sense, a specific for nervousness. Hostetter's Stomwch Bitters is eminently calculated to allay and eventually overcome it, a fact which the recorded experience of many goes to substantiate. This inestimable tonic, by promoting digestion, assimilation and secretion, touches the three key notes upon which the hatmony of all the bodily organs depends, and the result is that fresh stores of vitality are diffused through the system, of which the nerves receive thir due apportionment, and grow tranquit as they gather strength.
